COX ADDRESSES CIVIC LEAGUE

Mere Man Not Admitted To The California Meeting
Without "Escort."

By the Associated Press
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 18.—Mere man unless accompanied by a woman "escort" was refused admittance today to hear the address of Governor James M. Cox before the San Francisco center of the California civic league, a woman's organization.

The speech at a luncheon was the principle feature of Governor Cox's last active campaign day in the San Francisco region. Following this talk Governor Cox's itinerary called for an address at a public reception at a local hotel and a speech at the Oakland auditorium across the bay under the auspices of the state democratic committee. The nominee will leave tomorrow for Los Angeles.

Governor Cox was expected to devote further attention in today's address to the Japanese immigration question, the burning question in California. His audiences also anticipated an elaboration of his statement that "radical feeling was being inspired by opponents of the league of nations and that it looks to me like a German-American alliance with the elementary conditions."

GOV. COOLIDGE TALKS AT G. O. P. STATE MEETING

By the Associated Press
BOSTON, Sept. 18.—Assertion that Governor Cox, after attempting the role of an idealist, had turned to the coarser methods of ward politics, resorting to wilder and wilder charges, was made today by Governor Coolidge, republican vice-presidential candidate.

The governor, addressing the republican state convention, said the democratic nominee for president was named by a convention in which "idealists had very little influence."

"Yet," he said, "after receiving a baptism of idealism at the White House, he attempted for a time the role of an idealist. He was to be the apostle of the great and solemn referendum."

"His address of acceptance started that way," he said, "but the success has not been marked—soon methods of ward politics prevailed."

In Africa there is a lack of locomotives and light railway cars are being drawn along the tracks by road tractors.

LAST DAY OF FAIR IS BIGGEST OF ALL

Thousands of People From Rural Districts See Big Show Last Day.

Today, the last day of Pontotoc county's big free fair, was by far the greatest day of the four from the standpoint of attendance. Probably two thousand people were in the city from the rural districts, and practically all of them visited the fair some time during the day. All exhibits in all departments have been judged and the prize ribbons attached. B. A. Pratt, secretary of the fair association, stated that the awards would be checked up separately the first of the week and premium checks mailed to the lucky exhibitors not later than Wednesday. Both Mr. Pratt and County Agent J. B. Hill expressed satisfaction at the way the fair went off, and both say that it was as good as could be expected.

Stock judge, Ward Case of the A. & M. College at Stillwater, was giving the Pontotoc County Boys' Club lessons in stock judging this afternoon. The three boys making the best score in the judging this afternoon, will be selected to go to the state fair at Oklahoma City where they will compete in a statewide judging contest with boys from all other counties in the state.

Agricultural Judge Shelton stated to Mr. Pratt this morning that he had judged bee honey in Missouri, Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana and Oklahoma, and that in all his experience he had never before seen as fine honey as that placed on exhibition here by the Boys' Bee Club of this county.

Probably the most interesting place in the livestock department is the stall in the horse and mule pavilion where the gray Belgian mare of C. H. Chestnut of Union Valley, this county, can be seen. The mare is four years old, took the blue ribbon in the judging yesterday, and is one of the finest specimens of horse flesh ever seen in this county. The Norman stallion of a South Dakota firm, which is standing here this season, is another animal of rare breeding which comes up to the standard of perfection.

The fair will close tonight and will go down as one of the best in the history of the county.

Daniels Replies to Harding.

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Replying to Senator Harding's charges that the administration was carrying on unconstitutional warfare against Haiti and Santo Domingo, Secretary Daniels declared in a statement today that the United States was administering affairs in those islands in "pursuance of treaty obligations."

Paving—Here and Elsewhere.

The city of Okemah, Oklahoma, is now doing considerable paving. They are laying brick three inches thick on a four-inch concrete base with one inch of sand cushion between.

The cost per square yard for pavement alone is stated to be $4.40. The estimated cost of a two-inch asphalt surface on five-inch concrete base is $3.85 for the city of Ada. In the last analysis, it is the thickness of the concrete base that determines the solidity and hence the life of the pavement. The thick concrete base under the proposed pavements for Ada will be five inches thick whereas Okemah is laying a four inch base.

Okemah, it appears will pay $62.50 per 50-foot lot for a heavy lead pipe water connection. The estimated cost for such a connection for Ada is $30.00.

The estimated cost for grading here in Ada, is $1.10 per cubic yard. Grading is being done at Okemah for $0.98 per cubic yard. The full cost of pavement at Okemah, when curbs, water-connection and grading has been figured in is stated to amount to $5.60 per square yard of pavement. Against this price is the engineer's estimated cost of $5.27 for Ada. Of course, the types of pavement are different, and so a true comparison is rather impossible.

Okemah could get her cost down to the figure set by the engineers for rock asphalt pavements in Ada, if Okemah were willing to cut the concrete base from a thickness of four inches down to three inches. But therein is the strength of the pavement. A few years ago, the city of Hutchinson, Kansas, endeavored to lay very economical brick pavements by using a three-inch base of concrete made from river sand without a stone or pebble in it. Shortly after completion, the base was broken thru by heavy trucks, so that large depressions were formed in the crown of the road. These stood full of water during rains, and thus by admitting water under the rest of the pavement, the whole of it was ruined, and had to be reconstructed before the brick wearing surface showed appreciable evidence of wear. Thus Hutchinson proved that a pavement that is cheap at first cost is very expensive in the long run. Let Ada do the job and do it right. Furthermore, let's do it now!

Ada Service and Filling Station Has New Lights

The Ada Service & Filling Station, at the corner of Tenth and Broadway, just north of the Ada Evening News office, has installed two big electric flood lights for the purpose of lighting the whole street, and corner where they are located.

One of the big lights is on top of the north wall of the Ada News building and the other is on top of the south wall of the office building of the P. B. Wilson Lumber company.

The additional lighting system was installed at considerable expense, but Mr. McKeller says there is nothing too good for Ada people, and from the very start he has overlooked nothing that would add beauty and convenience to his gasoline station.

In the first place his station is one of the most modern to be found in this part of the state, and with the flower garden on the station's plaza, the tasty designs in painting and the exceptional lighting facilities which he now has, makes the station not only one of convenience for both himself and his customers, but it is one of the city's leading, beauty spots as well.

An Eavesdropper * Overhears Confab As To Ada's Streets

An Ada Evening News reporter overheard a conversation of special interest on Main street last night between two men, both strangers in the city. The discussion pertained to pavement and good roads problems, and the advantage these give to towns and communities.

Condition of streets in practically every city in the state was brought up and gone over, and practically did they dwell upon those of Ada and Chandler. Interesting comparisons were made and a number of towns suffered severe criticism. Chandler was condemned because of the bad pavement that covers the blocks of its main street. According to one of these men visitors to Chandler would no more than hit town until they would be cursing the desires or compulsory reasons that brought them there.

Hugo, Oklahoma, was heartily commended for its beautiful streets, the right spirit and sound business logic that gave them miles of pavement.

Ada was censured for the ever prevailing bad condition of its streets running through the resident sections. They expressed disappointment at finding a town apparently so progressive and business like with so small amount of pavement as that which graces the blocks of our business section.

These men might have been giddy headed, or they might have been agents for some cement manufacturer, but they certainly knew what they were talking about on this one occasion.

In making suggestions for the improvement of our streets they were merely elucidating a theory for the advancement of progress that has been preached to the race of men since time immemorial. And it is the theory that is being repulsed and shamefully neglected by thousands of young cities every day.

How commendable it would be if we could lift Ada out of this deplorable condition by spending the money that will be dribbled away for temporary improvements through out the next few years to come, in laying upon our streets a thickness of solid pavement, good, long enduring, permanent and everlasting.

The weight of the earth's atmosphere is the same as that of an ocean of mercury covering the entire earth to a depth of 76 centimeters.

HARDING WARNS AGAINST MEDDLING

Doesn't Believe U. S. Should
'Meddle' With Other Nations' Affairs.

By the Associated Press
MARION, Sept. 18.—Warning against the dangers of a hyphenated citizenship, Senator Harding told a gathering of foreign-born Americans here today, that he believed the United States must avoid "meddling" in the affairs of other nations if all classes of American citizens are to be united in loyalty to the government.

The republican nominee did not blame the foreign-born for conflicting sympathies during the world war and asserts that the fault belonged to the nation itself. The task of thoroughly Americanizing those of foreign extraction, he said, had been neglected and must now be taken up with new determination.

"Let us all pray that Americans shall never become divided into classes and shall never feel the menace of a hyphenated citizenship," said Senator Harding.

"For Americans who love America, I sound a warning. It is not beyond possibility that the day might come, and may God forbid it, when an organized hyphenated vote in American politics might have the balance of the voting power to elect our government. If this were true America would be delivered out of the hands of her citizenship and her control might be transferred to foreign capital abroad."

JACK JOHNSON SOON WILL BEGIN SERVING TERM

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—Jack Johnson, former world's champion heavyweight, failed today to appeal his sentence of one year and a day in Leavenworth and a fine of $1,000 for violation of the Mann act.

Stauffer's Business College Changes Hands Recently

Mr. V. A. Newcomb, formerly of Springfield, Mo., has purchased the Stauffer Business college and will conduct the school in the same building, but it will be known hereafter as the Ada Business college.

Mr. Newcomb is a graduate of the Springfield Business college and has had several years experience as teacher, both in public and high schools of Missouri.

He has been general manager of Stauffer's Business college for the past six months and has proven his ability as a competent teacher. Mr. Newcomb is spending quite a lot of money as well as hard work to make the Ada Business college second to none in Oklahoma.

The Ada Evening News, as well as the general public, extends to Mr. Newcomb the glad hand of welcome to Ada, and we trust that ere long Ada will have the enviable reputation of being the educational center of Oklahoma.

DAGNET OUT TO CATCH RADICALS

Officials Sure That N. Y.
Explosion Is Work
of Reds.

By the Associated Press
NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Convinced that the explosion which snuffed out the lives of thirty-five persons and injured nearly 300 others in Wall Street Thursday noon was deliberately planned by radicals, officials of the department of justice headed by Attorney General Palmer himself, today spread a dragnet over the country in efforts to trap its originators.

Department of justice officials were certain that the disaster was not the result of one person's inspiration, but that it was the premeditated and fiendish plot of radicals bent on defiance of the law and organized government. William J. Flynn, head of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice, based his opinion on the finding of radical literature in postoffice boxes near the scene of the tragedy soon after it occurred. The literature found last year was signed "The Anarchistic Fighters," while that found yesterday was signed "American Anarchistic Fighters."

Very little could be done to trace the authors of this literature or to ascertain whether a general radical movement was contemplated until definite persons are found who are responsible for the disaster, Chief Flynn said.

Primary importance in today's search was attached to the finding of the driver of the dilapidated rusty red wagon, the fragments of which were found near the crater of the terrific explosion.

Col. William Mead, chief clerk for the Morgan interests, declared the farrier who shod the horse that drew the death wagon had been found and he was reasonably sure of the driver's identity. Peculiar markings on the horse's shoe aided in tracing the blacksmith who thought he could remember the man who brought the horse to him to be shod.

Workmen were still busy repairing the damage to the Morgan bank, United States assay office and other buildings that bore the brunt of the destructive blast.

Department of justice officials attached little importance to the detention of Edward Fischer at Hamilton, Ont., who yesterday admitted to Canadian authorities having sent warnings of the disaster to several friends here.

By the Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Apparently more progress was being made from the examination of the horse than the wagon. The horse had been newly shod behind but had old shoes on the forefeet. The new shoes bore the stamp "H. S. I. U." which is a union mark. The horse shoers international union which is reported to have only one local in this city. The 500 members are being examined at headquarters. It was said little credence was given to reports that conspirators had planned not only to bomb but to burn Wall street. This report gained circulation after certain pieces of metal had been found. This metal, at first was believed to have been fragments of kerosene or gasoline cans placed near the scene of the explosion in an attempt at arson. No comment could be obtained at police headquarters this morning on the statement of Colonel Mead that the farrier who shod the horse attached to the death wagon had been found.

Cost of Bringing Shirt From New York Boosted 1.4 Mills Under New Freight Schedule

Just what the increased freight rates which went into effect August 26 will mean to the average consumer, in the way of contributing to the cost of necessary articles of clothing, and standard food products, is shown in a bulletin issued by W. M. Whitenton, assistant chief operating officer of the M. K. & T. railway at Dallas, Texas.

Freight charge on a pair of shoes shipped from Boston to Muskogee, under the old schedule was 7.3 cents; under the new rate the charge is 11.4 cents, an increase of 4 cents a pair.

On a suit of clothes sent from Chicago to Vinita the old freight rate was 9.4 cents; the new rate is 12.7, an increase of 3.3 cents a suit.

Freight charge on a shirt sent from New York to Oklahoma City formerly was 9.6 mills, it is now 1.2 cents, an increase of 1.4 mills.

Freight charge on packing house products from Chicago to Tulsa, was 7.5 mills under the old schedule, the new rate is 1.1 cents, an increase of 3.5 mills a pound.

From New Orleans to Okmulgee, the old freight rate on a pound of sugar was 0.3 mills; it is now 0.2 mills, an increase of 0.1 mills.

SINN FEINERS IN BELFAST HANG LLOYD GEORGE IN EFFIGY

Effigies hung by Sinn Feiners on Newtownards Road, Belfast. In no other Irish city has the spirit of riot and rebellion flared so fiercely as in Belfast. Here many have been killed in riots, and scores of homes and public buildings have been burned. Here also Lloyd George has been hung in effigy. The photo shows a typical Belfast street. Note that the store fronts have been partly boarded up to save the windows when rioting occurs. That ice cream, the distinctly American dish has invaded Ireland, is shown by one of the signs.

Just Can't Help Acting Queer When They go to Clerk for Marriage License

Most All of 'Em Pull Funny Stunt Before They Get Documents.

What did you say and how did you act when you walked up to the court clerk's counter and asked for a marriage license?

The chances are you've forgotten. The court clerk has forgotten.

But you did something unusual and peculiar without doubt. They all do.

Luther Franklin, court clerk of Ada, who has "started things going" for more young, old and middle aged couples than any other man in the county during the last few years, says he can tell nearly all about a man by the way he asks for a license.

Usually Act Silly. The fellow who never before has had any experience in "buying licenses" usually acts silly, looks silly and feels silly.

He knows it is a serious business, or ought to be, but just can't be dignified about the matter that he struggles to appear so.

He usually blushes to the roots of his hair, looks around as tho in search of something he can't find then "eases" up to the counter. "I want to get married," is his outburst.

He has to be asked his name several times and one fellow not long ago actually forgot his name. Then he forgot his age, but is sure it is more than 21 years. The chances are after this has been finished he starts out without paying for the license and has to be called back. Old Timers are Composed. The "old timer" has another way about him. He has been there before and knows how it is done and tries to act as though he doesn't care what happens, and the chances are, he doesn't.

He would have the court clerk believe that he has delved into the mysteries of life and knows about all there is to be known.

But the extent of Franklin's investigations doesn't stop here. This superficial information anyone can know.

By looking at a man and watching him as he comes after his license the court clerk believes he can tell whether the couple will be happy. Without even seeing the woman in many cases, too, he still insists the prospective happy pair have a "strange, inexplicable way about them."

Can Pick 'Em Out. They may be young and they may be old, rich or poor, of previous married experience or none—they have an air about them that radiates the desire to go through with the problems of married life in a manlike way and make a success of it.

Why doesn't he tell the man whether he will be happy?

Well, what's the use? The man wouldn't believe what he was told and why make his life miserable by telling him his married life isn't going to be happy? And if he is destined to happiness it wouldn't add any to his joy to tell him of his future prospects.

So they come and go and Franklin continues philosophizing.

Had Wrong Remarks.
PORT SPOTTS, East—Physicians opinions as to the age of Lawrence Tobias, negro, convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary for a murder on the steam boat shooting Howard Thomas, manufacturer, his employee, prevailed over statements of the prisoner, his mother, and one from a sister. Tobias' former home in Louisiana, as to the age of the prisoner.

Tobias' claim that he was but 14 years old, corroborated by the foregoing sources, for a time threatened to thwart carrying out of the penitentiary sentence because under the Kansas law, a 14-year-old boy cannot be imprisoned in the penitentiary. Physicians after looking the youth over agreed that he must be at least 22. The court accepted this and Tobias was sent to the penitentiary.

Texas City, Tex.—In an interesting statement, Mrs. G. H. Schill, of this town, says: "For three years I suffered untold agony with my head. I was unable to do any of my work."

I just wanted to sleep all the time, but that was the only ease I could get, when I was asleep. I became a nervous wreck just from the awful suffering with my head.

I was so nervous that the least noise would make me jump out of my bed. I had no energy, and was unable to do anything. My son, a young boy, had to do all my household duties.

I was not able to do anything until I took Cardui. I took three bottles, in all, and it surely cured me of those awful headaches. That has been three years ago, and I know the cure is permanent for I have never had any headache since taking Cardui.

THE TOWN GOSSIP

By MARLOW BROWNLEE

HE WAS standing.
UP IN front.
OF A bunch of neckties.
IN BEN Scheinberg's store.
AND SAM Schienberg.
WAS WAITING on him.
AND HE'D pick one up.
AND LOOK it over.
REAL CAREFUL like.
AND HOLD it off.
AT A little distance.
AND SQUINT at it.
AND THEN he'd tie it.
AROUND HIS finger.
AND SQUINT at it.
SOME MORE.
AND THEN he'd shake his head
AND SIGH.
AND LAY it down.
ON THE counter.
AND SAM would sigh.
AND REACH for another one.
IN THE showcase.
AND PULL it out.
AND GIVE it to him.
AND HE'D go.
THROUGH THE same motions.
AND SHAKE his head.
AND SIGH some more.
AND ASK for another one.
AND I got interested.
AND WATCHED him.

AND I never saw a man.
WHO SEEMED so uncertain.
IN HIS taste for neckties.
AND I wondered.
HOW LONG it
HAD BEEN going on.
BEFORE I came in.
AND THEN.
ALL AT once.
A LADY came over.
FROM THE other side.
OF THE store.
AND WALKED up and said:
"GEORGE, DO you mean to say.
"YOU HAVEN'T picked out.
"YOUR NECKTIE yet?"
AND GEORGE said "no."
AND THE lady looked.
AT THE display on the counter.
AND PICKED up one.
AND LOOKED at it.
AND GAVE it to Sam.
AND SAID "Wrap it up."
AND SAM did.
AND THEY went out.
WITHOUT FURTHER trouble.
AND I wonder.
HOW HE ever.

OUSTED SOCIALISTS
IN N. Y. RE-ELECTION

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—All of the socialist assemblymen who were thrown out of the New York state assembly last fall in a coup by Speaker Sweet and his political henchmen, triumphed at a special election in their districts. Each candidate whipped a fusion candidate offered by the republicans and democrats.

The men who go back to the legislature are: Samuel Orr, Louis Waldman, Charles Solomon, August Claessens and Samuel A. Dewitt. Although the entire count is not yet known it is indicated that each, on a percentage basis, will have decidedly increased his strength over the election of last year. The total vote cast was less than that cast at the regular election.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 17.—The buying public has rebelled against ever-mounting prices and has forced a period of readjustment of values, Vice Governor Platt of the federal reserve board declared in a speech here before the annual convention of the West Virginia Bankers' association. Analysis of the country's business condition with respect to price situation, disclosed a marked lessening of demand, he said, adding that the refusal to buy was traceable directly to public sentiment against high prices. Mr. Platt's speech, the first since his appointment, was designed as a reply to critics who had charged that the board's credit restriction and rediscount policies were responsible of the closing or part time operation of scores of manufacturing establishments. On such charges, he said, were without merit. The reasons for the closing of many factories were found to be "deeper seated and more widespread."

Discussing the drop in prices of many commodities, Mr. Platt said the causes followed by the market indicated a restoration of the normal supply and demand but would not prevent the return to which prices would naturally "come up" in the credit situation. Mr. Platt declared, emphasizing the fact that it also would "increase grubbing and criticism."

Renfro Herndon of Troop 2, likes but a little of passing his second class test.

All of the boys of scout age of the Methodist church will meet at the church next Tuesday evening to organize their troop. "Be Prepared; Do a Good Turn Daily."

M. Hugo Hughes, superintendent of the First Baptist Sunday school at Roff, has consented to give scouting a big boost at Roff and start the organization of a troop at that place.

It doesn't cost much money to become and to be a scout. All it will take is fifty cents for the registration fee and fifty cents for a handbook which has a world of valuable interesting information for the growing boy.

Mr. J. B. Hill, the agricultural agent for Pontotoc county, informs the Boy Scout council of the county that there are four hundred boys who belong to the boys corn, cotton and pig clubs. All of them are boys between twelve to eighteen years of age and are eligible to become scouts. Any of them can see the scout executive at the city hall and he will give them all the information about boy scouting that they want.

SCHOOL BUDGET IS TOO SMALL

Should Be Twice as Large
As It Was Before the War.

By the Associated Press
NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—School budgets in American cities should be twice as large as before the war according to an analysis of public school statistics just given out by the Russell Sage Foundation. The report maintains that teachers' salaries should now be double the pre-war figures in order to obtain the same quality of educational service. The cost of school buildings is declared to have tripled in the last five years.

These findings are made public in a volume entitled "Trends of School Costs." The author is Dr. W. Randolph Burgess, assistant director of the department of education of the Russell Sage Foundation. The study is an application to the field of education of the method of the index number. The volume is a companion to "The Index Number for State School Systems" by Dr. Leonard F. Ayres, which made a comparison of the efficiency of the school systems of different states.

Dr. Burgess compares the salaries paid to teachers with those paid laborers and artisans for 80 year and finds that the wages paid young women teachers in country schools have increased from $2.50 a week in 1841 to $17.50 now, an increase of 600 percent. Salaries of women teachers in cities show similar increase from about $4.50 to $35.50 a week. Men teachers received much smaller relative increases.

Up to 1915 teachers received percentage increases in salary nearly twice as great as artisans and laborers, Dr. Burgess finds, but in spite of the increases the average pay of teachers has never risen as high as wages paid to such artisans as blacksmiths, carpenters and painters.

"During the five years since 1915 the salaries of teachers have increased on the average of 45 percent as compared with a 100 percent increase in the wage of laborers and artisans," says a summary of the report. "This lag in teachers' salaries behind the general rise in prices has wiped out all the gain that was made since the time of the civil war. A comparison of teachers' salaries and the cost of the necessities of life each year for the past eighty years makes it clear that in the past two years the purchasing power of the teachers' salary has been less than at any other time since the civil war. The report maintains that the only way to retain efficient teachers in service and at the same time attract able men and women to teaching is to bring salaries to a level corresponding to the level of the wages in other occupations, and the level of the cost of living. This is taken to mean bringing salaries to a point just double the pre-war figures."

Estimating the probable levels of school expenditures during the coming few years, the conclusion is drawn by Dr. Burgess that to buy the same amount of educational service in 1920 and 1921 as in 1915 it will be necessary to double the school budget. The high cost of prices and wage fluctuations in the past and particularly at the time of the civil war, it is pointed out, has led to large decreases in prices or wages or to be anticipated. But that expenditures on the same scale will be necessary for a number of years.

According to the report, the cost of a year's schooling for a child is $100. Dr. Burgess says he believes the tax rate on property and on business can be further increased without causing excessive hardship. He says that in different large cities it is cited to indicate that there is no economic limit which has been reached in many cities.

Organs of hearing are found only in some submarines and especially in those flying by air.

LEST WE FORGET.

The republican party in its platform of 1916 declared for a world court, "for the specific settlement of international disputes." The progressive party in 1912 and in 1916 declared for an arrangement between nations to make peace permanent. The democratic party in 1916 specifically declared in favor of the establishment of the league of nations. The senate itself, on August 28, 1916, by unanimous vote, passed a measure requesting the president to take the lead in such a world movement.

On December 18, 1916 the president addressed an identic note to the nations at war requesting them to state the terms upon which they would deem it possible to make peace. In this note he proposed the creation of a league of nations, saying: "In the measures to be taken to secure the future peace of the world, the people and government of the United States are as vitally and directly interested as the governments now at war. They stand ready and even eager to co-operate in the accomplishment of these ends when the war is over with every influence and resource at their command."

This was four months before America entered the war.

To this identic note, the central powers answered evasively, but the Allies, in their reply dated at Paris, January 10, 1917, declared:

"Their whole-hearted agreement with the proposal to create a league of nations which shall assure peace and justice throughout the world."

On January 22, 1917, the president addressed the senate with reference to these replies and said:

"In every discussion of the peace that must end this war, it is taken for granted that the peace must be followed by some definite concert of power which shall make it virtually impossible that any such catastrophe shall overwhelm us again."

Speaking of the league of peace which was to follow the war, he said:

"If the peace presently to be made is to endure, it must be a peace made secure by the organized major forces of mankind."

Acting upon these proposals, both the French and the British governments appointed committees to study the problem while the war was still in progress.

On April 2, 1917, the president delivered his famous war message to congress, and thrilled the heart of the country anew by his announced purpose to make the contest "a war against war." High above all our other aims, he placed "a universal dominion of right by such a concert of free peoples as shall bring peace and safety to all nations and make the world itself at last free."

Following this message, the congress by resolution, passed April 6, 1917, recognized the state of war.

On January 8, 1918, the president went before congress and set forth his famous Fourteen Points. The fourteenth point, which is practically identical in language with the provisions of Article X of the covenant, provided that "a general association of nations must be formed under specific covenants for the purpose of affording mutual guarantees of political independence and territorial integrity to great and small states alike."

Senator Lodge himself, before the exigencies of politics forced him to take the other side, said that an attempt to make a separate peace would "brand us with everlasting dishonor" and that "the intent of the congress and the intent of the president was that there could be no peace until we could create a situation where no such war as this could recur."

Former President Roosevelt, only July 18, 1918, said: "Unless we stand by all our Allies who have stood by us, we shall have failed in making the liberty of well-behaved, civilized peoples secure and we shall have shown that our announcement about making the world safe for democracy was an empty boast."

On November 4, 1918, the armistice was agreed to and it was concluded upon the basis of the fourteen points set forth in the address of President Wilson delivered to Congress on January 8, 1918, and the principles subsequently enunciated by him. At no point at no time, during no period while this history was in the making, was one responsible American voice raised in protest.

Thus, before we entered the war, we made the pledge; during the war we restated the pledge; and when the armistice was signed, all of the nations, ourselves included, renewed the pledge; and it was upon the faith of these promises that Germany laid down her arms. Practically all of the civilized nations of the earth have now united in a covenant which constitutes the redemption of that pledge. We alone have thus far failed to keep our word. Others may break faith; the senate of the United States may break faith; the republican party may break faith; but neither President Wilson nor the democratic party will break faith.

The forty page issue of the Pittsburg Guardian issued to boost the fourth annual free fair is the most creditable issue of a weekly newspaper that has reached the Morning News office in many a day. It is well edited and printed and is chock full of interesting advertising, showing that the citizens of that county appreciate what it means to boost an event like the fair and that the newspaper is the best place to do it, rather than on fences and dirty windows of empty buildings.—Shawnee Morning News.

Doesn't it sometimes strike you as peculiar that despite the difference in time practically complete returns for the state election in Maine can be secured before midnight of the same day while not one single county in Oklahoma is ever complete for several days after an election? It cannot be the blame of our election law. We do not need to hold back to make sure of a good vote. Voting places are as accessible in this state as any other. Can it be then that the men put on the election boards of Oklahoma are incapable of doing the work any better than has been the record in the past? If this latter reason is the correct one it is high time that a man's ability should be considered before the fact that he is known to be a staunch supporter of the head of the ticket. Let's have a show of efficiency at least.—Shawnee Morning News.

As we view the situation in Tulsa, Teachers of Children.

School is beginning once more. The children are again in evidence. And how about the teachers?

They must keep their peace with parents and support all the conventional moralities and be examples.

They must fill out innumerable reports, many of which appear to them useless. They are underpaid yet they must dress appropriately, and count their scanty pennies to do it.

The burden of detail that they must carry is enormous. And yet, somehow or other, they do not forget that after all they are not mere parts of a machine of mere teachers of subjects, but teachers of children, and they manage to see Tom, Dick and Mary, as real human beings, with real lives to live and real problems to solve, and often they help them in vital personal affairs as fathers and mothers cannot and do not.

It is the teachers that count.—Oklahoma Daily News.

The Pontotoc County Chapter Employs a Public Health Nurse

The executives of the Pontotoc county chapter, American Red Cross have for some time been considering the employment of a public health nurse, but nurses with the standard excellence which they required were very hard to find. There are many qualifications a public health nurse should possess which are not essential to bedside nurses. After several weeks of search and investigation by the executive board and division representatives for a nurse who could meet the Pontotoc county chapter's requirements, it was found that we had the very nurse in our own city.

We are glad to announce that Mrs. Lucille Cox, formerly Miss Lucille Wales, who needs no introduction to the people of Ada and Pontotoc county, has accepted the work and will leave this week for a four month special course in public health nursing. She will be ready to assume her duties soon after the first of the year. Mrs. Cox expects to establish a health center and baby clinic immediately upon her return.

The chapter is very fortunate in securing the services of Mrs. Cox, as there were several hospitals making every effort to get her, but feeling the call to a greater service she has decided to enter the public health work. The citizens of Pontotoc county are to be congratulated on electing an executive board, who gives so much of their time and thought to the betterment of humanity.

Stock Market

Kansas City Stock Yards, Sept. 18.—Today's receipts of cattle, 34,000 were the largest thus far this year, and prices ruled steady to 25 cents lower. Killers took all the good to choice fat steers at steady prices. Others showed the decline. Hog prices were up another 15 to 25 cents, and in the highest position since last September. The top was $16.75. Fat western lambs were strong to 25 cents higher, top $16.35, and the highest this season. Today's Receipts.

Receipts today were 34,000 cattle, 5,500 hogs, 15,000 sheep, compared with 19,000 cattle, 3,000 hogs and 12,000 sheep a week ago, and 34,400 cattle, 9,800 hogs, and 25,000 sheep a year ago.

Beef Cattle. In production to total receipts of cattle the percent of good to choice beef steers was unusually small, and prices for them were fully steady. Common, plain and medium steers were plentiful and sold off 15 to 25 cents. Packers made liberal purchases and there was a good shipping and order trade.

The few loads of fed steers here sold at $15.50 to $16.50. Nothing prime was offered. Grass fat steers sold at $8.50 to $15.25 few above $13.50, or below $9.00. Cows and heifers were generally steady at last week's decline. Veal calves were weak to 50 cents lower.

Stockers and Feeders. Though there was a fairly large country demand stockers and feeders were in liberal supply, and while a few of the best were quoted steady, most of the offerings were 15 to 25 cents lower. Eastern buyers continue to take a good many fleshy steers for short feeding. Stock calves were weak to 25 cents lower and stock cows and heifers about steady.

Hogs. Another 15 to 25 cents advance in hogs today brought prices to the highest positions since last September, and more than $1.00 above a week ago. Demand for pork both from export and domestic sources is larger now than for a number of months past. The top price today was $16.75 and bulk of sales $16 to $16.70. Pigs sold up to $16.50, and all stock and feeding grades were in active demand.

Sheep and Lambs. Fat lambs were quoted 25 cents higher and sheep and feeding lambs were steady. The good western, Utah and Idaho lambs here sold at $13.75 to $14.35, the last named price being the highest this season by 20 cents. Native lambs sold up to $13.25. Most of the feeding lambs sold at $12.50 to $13.50.

Horses and Mules. A liberal supply of range horses is on sale this week, and the good kinds are bringing steady prices. Natives are in limited supply. Plain common and out of conditioned kinds are selling lower.—Charles M. Pipkin, market correspondent.

Opportunity.
This I beheld, or dreamed it in a dream,
There spread a cloud of dust along a plain;
And underneath the cloud, or in it, raged
A furious battle, and men welled,
And swords
Shook upon swords and shields.
A prince's banner
Wavered, then staggered backward,
hemmed by foes,
A craven hung along the battle's edge.
And thought: "Had I a sword of keener steel—
That blue blade that the King's son bears—but this Blunt thing—!" he snapped and flung it from his hand,
And lowering crept away and left the field.
Then came the King's son, wounded sore
bested,
And weaponless, and saw the broken sword,
Hilt-buried in the dry and trodden sand,
And ran and snatched it, and with battle shout
Lifted afresh he hewed his enemy down and saved a great cause that heroic day.

Bankers Are Not Profiteers

While almost every commodity in the world is doubling and trebling in price, the price of money has remained practically the same.

Bankers are not profiteers. They make their money by handling a large volume of business. Their earnings are modest on the money invested.

They do thousands of things for the citizens of every community without remuneration.

The enormous burden of making income tax returns for our customers, and the caring for the immense amount of work in connection with Liberty Bond sales are real services to the Nation.

A Bank must make a certain profit or it will not interest either capital or the right kind of leaders.

This bank wants every man to make enough margin of profit so that the necessities of life, a home and a reserve for old age can be provided.

Let us justify your patronage by good service and fair treatment.

She also stated that soon after the date of their marriage he refused to support her and would not give her food and clothing. She stated that he would not work, thus causing her to have to support herself and her husband, also his several children. She further charged that he would get drunk and curse and abuse her. That he would come in at any time of day or night and treat her in such a manner that made life unbearable with him.

Citizens Will Repair Low Water Bridge Monday

Work on repairing the Byng low water bridge across the Canadian river is to begin Monday, according to O. N. Walker, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. Plans have been perfected to repair the damaged bridge and the work to begin Monday will be rushed to a speedy completion.

There is a rather wide impression that the Byng bridge was dynamited when the two spans went out. This belief is strengthened by the fact that a bridge across Little River northeast of Konawa was damaged by vandals at the same time the Byng bridge was broken down.

WOMAN KEEPS PRES. WAITING FOR AN HOUR

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Miss Violet Oliver, the California "raish queen," who was scheduled for a personal interview with President Wilson, kept the president for nearly an hour through a mix-up in the executive offices.

She arrived at 10:30 a. m., the scheduled hour, alright, but attached, misunderstanding the situation, chanted her name into a reception room where she sat and was forgotten. When Secretary Tamm discovered the error it was too late for the president to receive Miss Oliver. She will seek Mr. Wilson this morning.

ATHENA UNDERWEAR

FOR WOMEN AND CHILDREN

Gives a Sense of Comfort Never Known Before

ATHENA means more to women than "just underwear."

It affords them unrestricted freedom of movement—never "binds" over the bust or around the hips. By giving free play to body and limbs ATHENA adds to woman's grace and poise.

Being tailored to fit the form it never "bunches" under the arms or in other places, but conforms to the figure, all over.

Its comfortableness is so unusual that when women once wear it, they seldom return to the ordinary garments that must be stretched into shape.

ATHENA Underwear is made in all sizes, weights and qualities, at the prices you pay for ordinary underwear.

WIELD MIGHTY CUDGELS FOR REDS

By Norman E. Brown.

In the 1919 National league campaign, which spelled the millenium for Cincinnati, the wonderful slab work of the Red pitchers overshadowed every other feature of the team's play. This year Pat Moran's pitching staff was hard hit when Hod Eller and Slim Sallee went blooie because their shine ball and rosin ball deliveries were banned by the unsympathetic powers. Big Dutch Reuther, who starred at opening series during the previous campaign, also slipped. Moran had to slap a fine on him recently for getting off the track. This condition of the mound crew threw a heavier burden and more of the limelight on the offensive part of the championship outfit. And it must be said to the gang that they have done their share. The wrecking crew of Daubert, Groh, Roush and Duncan has saved many a game when the pitching fizzled. Groh, Daubert and Roush are veterans. They have been good hitters for years. Pat Duncan, the youngest member, is the youngster who joined the team late last year when Moran was in a bad way for a star outfielder to fill the bill when Magee and Bressler had failed. Duncan showed himself to be a slugger right off the reel and proved to be one of the big stars of the world's series. Roush's temperament threatened his worth to the club for a time, his feat of deliberately refusing to chase a long drive in one of the Reds' games in midseason nearly ending his usefulness as a Red. Judging from the work of the Reds this year the wrecking crew will have a harder role to fill in the world's series next month—if the Reds cop.

BUSINESS MEN IN S. A. PROTEST THE PROFITS TAX

By News' Special Service

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 18.—Protest against the assessment of the United States income and excess profits tax upon American citizens and business firms residing and operating abroad is voiced in a resolution adopted by the chamber of commerce of the United States in Argentina and sent to the government at Washington. Amendment to the law is asked on the ground that it is proving an obstacle to the development and extension of United States foreign commerce.

Collection of the tax not only increases the heavy expenses of Americans residing abroad, but constitutes a serious handicap to them in trade competition, the resolution states, since no such tax is collected from the nationals of other countries. It is further pointed out that American citizens and business houses must pay heavy taxes levied by the country in which they are located and thus are taxed twice without representation either in the government of that country or their own.

Already the assessment of the excess profits and income tax has caused many American interests operating abroad to change their identity by organizing as concerns of the countries where they conduct business. It is asserted, "thus causing a serious loss to the prestige of American commerce in foreign markets." It is contended that when the relative high cost of living and other disadvantages incurred by foreign residence are considered, incomes abroad that appear large are not really so in comparison with those paid in the United States, and the collection of the tax upon them tends to make foreign residence and business operation financially disadvantageous.

At the state capital, mounted deer heads, properly confiscated during the last year, were sold by the state fish and game department for $8, an elk's head for a little more. For eight dollars you could put it over your mantelpiece, and then come night as you sit before the fireplace you could tell the charmed circle how you did it up in the north woods.

Jewels on Garters This Winter, and They'll Be Seen, Too

NEW YORK.—Striped stockings with jeweled garters just below the knee will be worn by smart women this fall and winter, according to Miss Isabelle M. Archer, style expert, who spoke at the recent jeweler's convention at Louisville. "Skirts for evening wear," said Miss Archer, "will fall four inches below the knee but will be lined only to the bend of the knee. The jeweled garter will flash from beneath diaphanous lace. The anklet watch of last winter will be superseded by the elastic anklet band set with gems, preferably diamonds. "Stockings will be striped in brilliant rainbow hues. Striped stockings will also be fashionable for street wear. Skirts will be slightly longer and narrower. They will reach 10 or 12 inches from the ground. But this will be long enough to afford a generous glimpse of the gorgeously striped silken hose."

News Food Bureau

There is a great variety of sauces which can be used in the home to serve with meat or vegetables and can also be used in making sandwich fillings. In a general way, they are made like milk soups, excepting that more flour is used. Two tablespoonfuls of flour and 2 tablespoonfuls of butter or other fat are usually allowed for each cup of liquid. This liquid may be water, broth, tomato juice, milk, cream, the water in which vegetables have been cooked, or a combination of two or more of these.

Tomato Sauce.
1 1/2 cups tomato juice
2 tablespoonfuls flour
2 tablespoonfuls butter
1-2 teaspoon pepper
1 slice onion
Sprig parsley
1/2 teaspoon salt
Add the seasonings to the tomato juice and simmer until the liquid has been reduced to about 1 cup. Melt the butter in a saucepan, stir in the flour, and when this is smooth add the strained tomato juice. Cook for a few minutes, or until smooth and thick. The tomato juice may be used plain, omitting the first cooking with the seasonings.

This will provide a tablespoonful for each of 16 people.
White Sauce.
3 tablespoonfuls butter
2 tablespoonfuls flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
Melt the butter, stir in the flour, and cook until smooth, but do not brown; add the milk slowly and cook until smooth and creamy. Season.

This makes 12 portions of 1 tablespoon each.

ENGLAND HAS 25-CENT BREAD AND NO WHEAT

LONDON, Sept. 18.—With bread selling at 25 cents a loaf and soon to be raised to 30 and later perhaps to 35 cents, England is harvesting this season the smallest wheat crop since the early days of the war. Production of barley, on the other hand, will show a material increase over that of the last few years.

The reasons for this state of affairs, according to Prof. James Long, a well known agricultural expert, are government control and beer. The price of wheat and oats is regulated, but no restrictions have been placed on that of barley. As the market price of barley is exceptionally high, farmers planted that grain instead of wheat and oats.

Prof. Long shows that since 1919 wheat has been reduced by 679,000 acres, or more than one-third of the present acreage, while oats, also an important feedstuff, has fallen off by 1,000,000 acres. "On the basis of wheat," he says, "this country's loss of grain equal to 2,000,000 acres or sufficient to feed 9,000,000 persons. It is a serious consideration on the fact that the barley crop is considerably increased, and in consequence has occupied the position of wheat.

NEW PRESIDENT OF FRANCE TO BE ELECTED SEPT. 24

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, Sept. 17.—A successor to Paul Doumer as president of France will be elected Friday, September 24, according to general belief in political circles today, although the date will not be definitely fixed until after the meeting of parliament Tuesday when the president's resignation to Premier Millerand yesterday will be placed before the legislative bodies.

The successor, it appeared today, will be Alexandre Millerand, the present premier, unless the powers of resistance to the call of office prove greater than the rapidly accumulating force of public sentiment favoring him for the chief magistracy.

Restored by Osteopathy.
Vincent N. Ward, about 20 years of age, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ward of Oswegatchie, N. Y., is undoubtedly about the happiest young man at the present time in this part of the country, says the Carthage, N. Y., Republican. Ward was nearly totally blind six months ago and today can read printing from the smallest type faces.

It was in December last that the young man first realized that he was gradually losing his eyesight and he consulted a specialist and received little or no encouragement as to whether he would ever be able to use his eyes again to any extent. In February, 1920, his condition became so serious that he could scarcely observe shadows. He had been obliged to give up doing any kind of manual labor but was still under treatment when he decided to consult an osteopathic physician, who made a thorough examination and came to the conclusion that Ward had sometime during his life received injuries to his head and neck which were responsible for his falling eyesight.

Ward has been coming to Carthage every week for treatments and his condition began to show improvement early in May. A Republican representative met Mr. Ward recently while he was in town and the young man was in fine spirits and highly elated over regaining his eyesight. He had just recently discovered that he could read the finest print.

"Who Will Buy My Dates?"

You have heard of the Oriental Bazaar. Perhaps you have seen it. Everybody in the city or village with anything to sell takes his wares to the bazaar and cries for buyers. The gardener with his vegetables, the herder with his goats, the old woman with a basket of fowls, the rug dealer, the fruit grower with dates and figs. There is much picturesqueness along with clamor, confusion, dirt and endless wastage of time.

In our American cities, the advertisements in the daily newspaper take the place of the ancient bazaar. Whoever has something to sell can tell you of his goods, and where to find them directly. Whatever you want to buy, you can read of it in advertisements, and go straight to the place where it may be seen. Clear and truthful advertising make it safe to order by telephone and avoid leaving your home at all.

Make it a practice to read the advertisements. They are the great bazaar of modern civilization. They are your source of information by which wise buying is accomplished.

White House Sheep To Change Owners
WASHINGTON—Ever since President Wilson installed his sheep on the White House lawn they have had no warmer admirer than Kurtis Hanson, the 6 year old son of Elsie Hanson, private secretary to Senator Medill McCormick of Illinois and now a member of Senator Harding's personal campaign staff.

As Kurtis was passing the White House to leave Washington for the summer, he waved his hand toward the flock of sheep grazing there and said:

"Goodbye, sheep; when I come back you'll belong to Mr. Harding."

RESULTS IN COLORADO ELECTION STILL IN DOUBT
By the Associated Press
DENVER, Sept. 18.—The extent of the non-partisan victory in last Tuesday's primary and the result of the republican contest for nomination for the United States senate, remained in doubt on the face of belated returns received up to today. On the democratic ticket the non-partisan league seems to have nominated candidates for governor and lieutenant governor.

The News Bible Lesson
Proverbs 16:23-9.

The heart of the wise teacheth his mouth, and addeth learning to his lips.

Pleasant words are as a honeycomb, sweet to the soul, and health to the bones.

There is a way that seemeth right unto a man; but the end thereof are the ways of death.

He that laboreth laboreth for himself; for his mouth craveth it of him.

An ungodly man diggeth up evil; and in his lips there is as a burning fire.

A froward man soweth strife; and a whisperer separateth chief friends.

A violent man enticeth his neighbor, and leadeth him into the way that is not good.

He shutteth his eyes to devise froward things; moving his lips he bringeth evil to pass.

The hoary head is a crown of glory, if it be found in the way of righteousness.

He that is slow to anger is better than the mighty; and he that ruleth his spirit than he that taketh a city.
